

IT Procurement

IT Procurement is much more than buying computers, servers, printers, software, and networking equipment. It's a high value approach for procurement of the right IT equipment at the right time for the right price with the right support.

How is high value procurement important for your business?

The original acquisition price you pay for IT equipment is just a small part of the overall lifetime costs. High value business procurement delivers products that are:

- built for business use and will reliably perform at the high level you require,
- compatible with your IT environment,
- backed by accredited, convenient, warranted services from a local vendor,
- available at a competitive price.

IT Procurement from Systems Plus

Systems Plus brings over 25 years of experience in technology procurement, relationships with the country's top three distributors, Premier-vendor status with Lenovo, HP and Apple, and premium certifications to deliver warranty services. These all add up to a formula for success that supports your business goals.

We specify and source equipment that will support current and future needs and is compatible with your current systems and network.

We will ensure that your business is using business-class equipment.

We identify applicable volume discounts and promotions.

Systems Plus provides IT Procurement for:

- Schools
- Medical & Dental Offices
- Legal Offices
- Retail Stores
- Consultancies
- Accountants
- Service Shops
- Small- and Medium-sized businesses
